Dear Savage,

Let us take a deep breath while we can because our schedule is going to be quite hectic this spring. We are nearing the end of the 3rd quarter and the final leg of our 2015-2016 school year journey begins. Upcoming events include spring break, parent –teacher conferences, music festivals, pre-school screening, senior trip, track, the spring extravaganza, and graduation. A new event being presented this year is K-4 musical in April. So there is much to look forward to and attend.

I would also like to recognize our junior high and high school students who have dedicated a great deal of their time to participating in extra-curricular events. They have provided us with memories and much entertainment since school started in August. They have worked hard and gained much knowledge about working in a team. Emotions do run high in the midst of competition and I would like to thank our students for behaving with dignity and displaying true sportsmanship. Savage can be proud of these “ambassadors” that represent us each year.

Sincerely,

Lynne Peterson

Seniors start in on Senior Memory Books

Dear Senior Parents and Guardians,

It is hard to believe that this month will see your children embark on their final quarter as high schoolers. This year, and their school years as a whole, have flown by. And, if they haven't already told you, the end is in sight.

In my English class, the seniors will create a Senior Memory Book. This is more or less their autobiography. I have outlined for them the chapters that they must cover, plus the requirements for the project.

That said, they cannot do this project alone.

Make sure that your senior is talking to you to do some research, especially into their early years. They have to find out what life was like before they arrived on the scene, as well as be reminded of all that adorable stuff they did when they were little. They also need pictures for each of the 13 chapters that they will write. Pictures, art work, momentos (these can be scanned in).

This project is a lot of fun, but it is also a lot of work. My hope is that each one of our seniors is able to produce a Senior Memory Book that will be a fabulous souvenir of their school experiences and something that they can treasure for years to come.

If you have any questions about the project, please feel free to e-mail me at ahoffmann@savagepublicschool.com.

Thank you for your help,
Alan Hoffmann

Seniors take part in Youth Leadership Institute

The Senior Government Class is participating in the Youth Leadership Initiative this spring. They will write congressional bills for a national E-Congress, where students from all over the country come together to act as a mock Congress, hold committee meetings, and vote on legislation. Students with passed legislation will have the opportunity to pass their bills on to state lawmakers for review and a chance at actually bringing the issues important to students into the real Congressional spotlight.

Savage teaching digital citizenship

From Maeve Macsteves, Business and technology teacher:

Now that we have an exciting new computer system available to all students - K-12. Having the elementary and junior high students using the computers in new and different ways - Google Drive, email accounts, etc. - brings up the topics of Digital Citizenship and Computer Safety. Thanks to a wonderful program for all ages from the National Center for Missing and Exploited Children, we have started our own program to ensure our children's safety on the internet. We encourage families to continue the conversation with their children, and to take advantage of the free resources offered at www.netsmartz.org.

National Honors Society seeks donations for scholarship

From Alan Hoffmann, National Honors Society Advisor:

Dear Savage,

It has been an interesting experience starting up our school's chapter of National Honors Society. One of the biggest challenges to our fundraising efforts have been that our kids are so involved with other activities. I would like to invite you all out to a free will donation soup dinner on March 31 to go along with Parent-Teacher conferences. I would also like to ask if anyone, be it individuals or businesses, would be willing to donate money for a scholarship for one of our seniors. I would like to provide one $500 scholarship to one of our senior members. Those that donate to the scholarship will be recognized at our awards banquet. If you have any questions, or would like to make a donation, please contact me at ahoffmann@savagepublicschool.com I thank you for your support of Savage Schools and the outstanding scholars that we are producing.

Richland Co. Strategic Planning Meeting Coming to Savage

Richland County is looking to speak to its residents about how they would like to see the county improve. A series of strategic planning meetings will be taking place. The meeting for Savage will take place on Thursday, April 14 at the Savage Fire Hall beginning at 5:30.

"The Communities in Action Steering Committee invites you to share your thoughts on both successes and opportunities you see throughout the area," said committee member Judy LaPan. A meal will be provided at the event. "Please mark your calendars and plan to bring bright ideas for a better future," LaPan added.

For more information on the event, you can contact Judy LaPan at jlapan@richland.org. You can also call her at (406)433-2207.

Greetings!

This school year, the art department has been extra busy with a quarter long Musical Art course at the beginning of the year, a yearlong Theatrical Arts elective, and a Color Theory semester long class that has now switched to a Mixed Media class.

Students have really been "Rising to the Occasion" around here, which is why we invite you to...

Spring Extravaganza
May 10, 2016

Art Exhibition ~ 8th Grade Graduation ~ Music Concert

I invite you to attend our 2nd Annual Spring Extravaganza later this spring. K-12 students have been working so hard this year on their many art projects and techniques that they are putting together another themed art exhibition in the commons area to showcase their abilities. Please join us to celebrate their talents and effort!

Hope to see you there! ~ Ms. Cassandra Moos

P.S. Feel free to Like my Facebook Page Ms. Moos' Art Education to see the many projects that are created within our school!
